The Singapore Spirit is the whole country being behind that one athlete or a team of athletes when they enter the competition arena. It makes winning sweeter and losing more bearable when you know that there is always someone cheering you on.

About Me

I started skating when I was about 10 years old, and it used to be the highlight of my week when my cousins and I would skate at the old People's Association, learning tricks and chasing one another. I joined Team SpeedVirus in 2005 and started training for speed seriously. It's been a great six years with many competitions and races in between. There is really nothing like going at 30km/h on your skates and feeling the wind through your hair!

“

The Singapore Spirit is where everyone, regardless of race or religion, comes together to celebrate the success that we have achieved against all odds. It is so ironic how we often take the racial harmony we have for granted, when all around us, in many parts of the world, two races are not able to live peacefully together. In Singapore, we often neglect the fact that our friends are of a different race and cultural background, making us all Singaporeans.

About Me

I participated in a short race in 2002 for fun, but soon realised that it was the sport that I had always been looking for. I joined a speedskating team, Team Speed Virus, and subsequently began competing in National and International competitions.

About Me

In 2006, I took part in an inline speed skating event organised by Samsung and found myself attracted to the sport. I bought myself a pair of speed boots and took part in an official speed skating race as an individual participant. From there, I was roped into a speed skating team where I received proper skating training.

About Me

My introduction to skating started when my parents bought me a pair of quad skates. Much later I started inline hockey and then I was introduced to speed skating by my current team mate, Daniel. It is now my passion!

“

It is an honour to represent Singapore in the 2011 SEA Games which is a prestigious event. Singapore has always been my home and will always be my home. This brings peace to my heart as I will be a part of this for my home country. That's the Singapore Spirit.

About Me

I wanted to do inline skating when I was eight, however my parents didn't allow me to pick up the sport until I was 14. I started with small wheels then. At that time, I was deliberating between aggressive skating and speed skating. I chose speed skating because it's really enjoyable to be able to create such speed with your legs and the skate wheels.

About Me

I first started skating at the age of six. I have always enjoyed skating especially with my elder brother, who is currently a freestyle slide coach to the Singapore national team. I started my skating 'career' with freestyle skating, a sport which incorporates not only technique, but also has a huge emphasis on style. Thereafter, I picked up speed skating through the recommendation of my sponsor and manager.
